Creative Full Stack Web Developer who builds functional applications. Seeking Front End Developer or Javascript Development position I whistle while I work, am self driven, adaptable, and dedicated to finding solutions to the problems others shy away from. Holds a Full-Stack Certification from the Southern Methodist University Coding Bootcamp with an AAS in Linux/Unix. Experienced in MEAN stack, with strength in JavaScript, API's, Node.js, and HTML. Known as a quick learner who is dependable and constantly goes above and beyond. Sees the positives in situations and people. Loves to continually learn and help others learn. Prior experience as a business owner combined with education in Linux/Unix and full stack development gives me a unique perspective and ability to succeed in an organization where I can solve problems by creating unique projects (or whatever your end goal is!) .
